FOUND DROWNED.

A white man was found drowned at the foot of Union street yesterday morning about ten o'clock. Yesterday Squire Burke held an inquest on the decessed in the second manual preaching; the circuit rider soon came winding his way along a time of any fidle-path, preaching to the people, had fark whiskers and was partly bald. His age could not very well be approximated, but the general opinion was that he might have been thirty-five or forty. His right jaw was broken in. His high was about five feet, eight inches. The jury came to the conclusion that he had under bush arbora, and rode away ten miles the condition of the conclusion that he had no school-houses or churches, about five feet eight have been thirty-five or forty. His right jaw was broken in. The county undertained befound that knew him. The county undertained by and had it buried.
